Humans and nations should solve finally the real causes of their problems not fight always symptoms like we can see today in climate crisis, pandemic or even war times! People wake up and change your mind, think logical, reasonable and in larger dimensions. #CauseSolution #Truth

For years, we have seen with concern people talking about how to stop climate change. This is a completely wrong way of thinking, talking and, in the end, acting. You can't and won't stop climate change, because the weather or climate systems have changed and always will change!

Matthew Todd @MrMatthewTodd · Feb 2

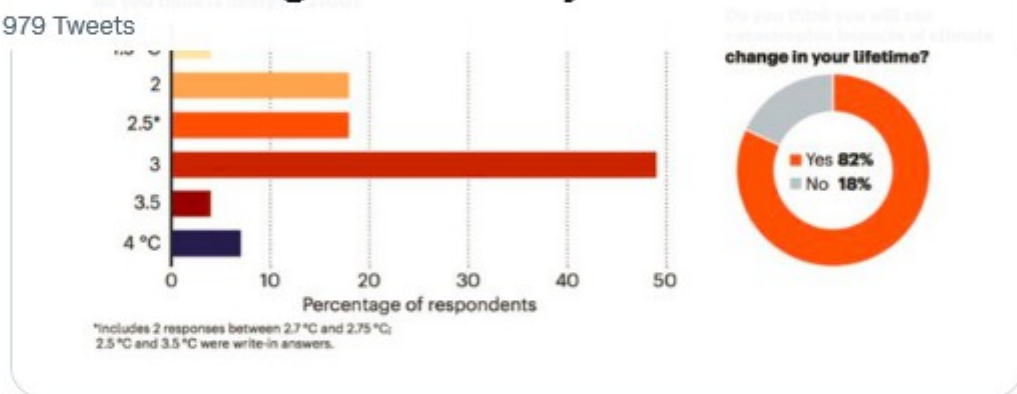

Some of the worlds top scientists were asked about how our efforts to stop climate change are going. Below 1.5oC is considered the safe level. Most said we'll hit 3oC. 82% said they'll live to see catastrophic warming. Why is this not on the news? @BBCNews @cnn @ReutersUK

If you want to do it right, talk or write about mitigating human-made climate changes, preventing causes and negative effects of man-made climate change! It's sad truth that humans doesn't really differentiate.

Already years ago many climate experts, physicists and serious scientists stated that the term and the worldwide use of "climate change" in wrong or half-true contexts is a very big problem. Some even declared that the term in such contexts as biggest hoax in history of science!

If people say "stop climate change" is like to say to planet Earth stop balancing, existing and doing what you do. The nature needs climate changing systems and climate changes, but of course not destruction, too much warming and pollution caused by humans. #ClimateChanges #Facts

If certain nations burn or waste so much tax money like wood or other fossils it's no wonder that global crises like climate crisis, endless conflicts, wars and refugee flows rise. EU, UN and other Unions should finally stop

"We spend less than $100 billion a year on nature globally – about what we spend on pet food".

Additional $700 billion are needed globally, which is "less than 1% of global GDP and only a fraction of the $5200 billion spent on fossil fuel subsidies."
